Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Thursday 06 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Showers fading away from the north and west tonight.

This Evening and Tonight:
Scattered showers will gradually become confined to the West Coast and areas north of the Great Glen tonight, these will be wintry mainly on the hills. Frost for many away from windward coasts. Light northwest breezes.

Friday:
Mainly dry from Great Glen southwards with best of sunshine before mid-morning. Northwest breezes pushing occasional showers over the north and a few developing elsewhere by afternoon.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Fair start to Saturday, then strengthening winds and periods of rain soon spreading from southwest, reaching all by days end. Thereafter showers or longer periods of rain, heavy at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.